I set up Cobbles in December 2015. I'd always dreamed of running my own little coffee shop, following both sets of grandparents who each had tea rooms of their own and where, as a child I grew up around the smells of Welsh cakes on the bake stone and fresh scones from the oven.. The dream became a reality and the almost derelict barns you're sat in now became the subject of my very own story to pass down to generations to come.

Thanks so much for popping by - I hope you love this place as much as I do... enjoy.
